

upon the proposed enhanced monitoring rule and submitted it to the Office of Management and Budget for interagency review under Executive Order 12866. However, in order to provide an opportunity to reevaluate this rulemaking, on April 4, 1995, the Environmental Protection Agency withdrew the draft final enhanced monitoring rule from further review by the Office of Management and Budget. In addition, the Agency has withdrawn 13 proposed example enhanced monitoring protocols that had been placed upon the Technology Transfer Network in anticipation of promulgation of final enhanced monitoring rules, in order to avoid confusion.

One of the first steps the Agency is taking in considering a possible restructured rule is to hold the public meeting on May 31, 1995. At this meeting the Agency will continue to work with representatives from industry, State and local agencies, and environmental groups in developing a rule that meets the objectives of the President's Environmental Regulation Reinvention effort. The meeting will include a number of representative stakeholders that will sit at the main meeting table by invitation. The number of stakeholders who will sit at the table will be limited to 40; the Agency has invited a broad representation of industry, State and local agencies, and environmental organizations to sit at the table. Additional seating at the meeting will be on a first come, first served basis. It is important to note that the Agency is seeking the opinions of all individuals/organizations present and not seeking consensus. There will be opportunities for all parties present to offer their views.

The purpose of the meeting will be to explain the Agency's underlying principles and to solicit opinions from stakeholders for formulation of new approaches to enhanced monitoring rules. One approach being considered would be to issue a revised proposed rule in the form of a Compliance Assurance Monitoring (CAM) Rule that would focus on improving current operation and maintenance (O&M) monitoring requirements. An enhanced O&M monitoring protocol would require that a source owner document operation and maintenance of a control device or process operation in accordance with established, reliable operating and maintenance practices and implement any necessary corrective action to ensure that emissions have been reduced. The Agency is also considering combining the periodic monitoring requirements in 40 CFR part 70 with this CAM rule so that all compliance-related monitoring requirements would be integrated in one set of requirements. To facilitate that approach, EPA also will consider the option of using any proposed CAM rule (or publicly released draft of the rule) as interim Agency guidance for implementation of the current periodic monitoring provisions of part 70. EPA will also consider other approaches as part of this review.

In the final rules section of this Federal Register, the EPA is approving the State's SIP revision as a direct final rule without prior proposal because the Agency views this as a noncontroversial revision amendment and anticipates no adverse comments.
